

The Robbins Museum of Archaeology/MAS
& Mass Humanities

~ We, the Peoples Program Presents ~

Reading, Responding, Exploring:
Stories that Connect Material Culture to Curricula & Reading

Meet at the Robbins Museum for a tour, an artifact analysis challenge, and a PowerPoint presentation featuring hands-on activities.

As we share this opportunity to handle authentic pieces of the past, we talk about them as indicators of social interaction and shifting lifeways. We'll explore topics such as:

- * geography & cartography;
- * art as a resource in social studies;
- * primary source data utilized to contextualize exhibits and material culture;
- * the lasting presence of Native Americans on landscapes past and present;
- * connecting these themes across the curriculum in your classroom!

WHEN?

Saturday, September 26, 2009

11:00 AM — 2:00 PM

Light Refreshments will be served

WHERE?

Robbins Museum of Archaeology

17 Jackson Street

Middleboro, MA 02346

Phone: (508) 947-9005

Web: www.massarchaeology.org

Email: mtconcannon@yahoo.com

Phone: (508) 947-9005 (Museum) OR 508-759-0887 (Messages)

Web: www.massarchaeology.org/

Email: mtconcannon@yahoo.com (reservations encouraged)

COST:

$5.00 per person. NEW!!! Teams of five (5) or more educators receive a 20% discount!

Proceeds benefit the Education Program & support new programs & services.

Join us for a dynamic, interactive program that puts a personal face on local histories!

Funded by Mass Humanities